Korean Film Night: Contemporary, Experimental and Avant-Garde

January 21, 7:00 pm

Although Koreans love cinema, experimental film is a new sensation. Minsu Yang, exhibiting artist at Bunnell in August 2009, and his colleagues essentially introduced this new form to Korea in the late 1990's after studying film at San Francisco Art Institute. This evening's screening will be a 1.5 hour program of recent works by Minsu Yang, Minyong Jang and Wontae Seo. The films are non-narrative, some avant-garde and some documentary. Michael Walsh will host the program and lead discussion after the screening. Suggested admission: $7. Image from "Breath" by Minyong Jang.

Box-Making Workshop with Margo Klass

January 29-31, Friday eve, Sat & Sun

Boxes - are they functional containers or holders of treasures? In this workshop the box itself is the treasure. Participants will construct hinge-lidded boxes, cover them with Japanese handmade paper and embellish them with decorative details both inside and out. The workshop will cover construction materials, measuring, gluing and attaching ornaments. Bring your own collection of small treasures (such as stones, twigs, buttons, ribbons, seeds, etc.) to personalize your box.

Friday 6-8pm, Saturday and Sunday: 10-4pm at Bunnell.

Workshop is $150 general/$125 members and includes most materials except for a short list of tools and supplies.

CaFE training, January TBA

Bunnell hosts a workshop to familiarize artists with WESTAF's Call For Entries website: CaFE.org. Artists can upload digital images of their work, set up an artist's profile and apply to Calls for Entries in Alaska and around the country. CaFE.org is the online application site for all Calls for Art for the Alaska State Council on the Arts (AKSCA), including the Art Bank application with a deadline of February 28th. Call Bunnell for more information: 235-2662.

Klass & Soos exhibit continues through February 1, 2010

A Contemporary Book of Saints: Icons - Altars - Reliquaries

Inspired by medieval icons, box constructions created by Margo Klass speak to the foibles and obsessions of contemporary culture. Architecturally, the constructions make use of found and fabricated objects to recall icons, shrines, altarpieces, and reliquaries and suggest the intimate contemplative aspects of their historical counterparts. Accompanying the boxes are legends of the saints by writer Frank Soos - philosophic, whimsical, ironic or humorous, but always instructive to the attentive viewer. (St. Ringo pictured)

St. Ringo

Patron Saint of Regular Guys

The not so good looking one, not really that good either at what he does, isn't he a bit like you and me? That was yesterday. Today, baby, he's a rich man, too. Go ahead, ask him for a light, bum a smoke, maybe even touch him for a little loan. He's the type to come through. Guys like us always do. His great gift is self-knowledge, to know dumb luck from skill, and to be humble before what grace has granted him.

Life Drawing Group, Tuesdays, 6:30 to 9 pm

Draw from a live model in the quiet atmosphere of Bunnell's main exhibit gallery. Bring your own drawing supplies - no instruction is provided. Drawing horses and tables and chairs are provided. $7 is requested to help pay for the model. Participants must be current members of the gallery at the $30 Individual level or higher. For more information about Life Drawing Group or to learn about modeling (models are needed!) please call Gaye Wolfe at 235-7696.

Plate Painting begins in February!

Bisque-fired plates ready for painting will be in soon. Come paint a plate and contribute to Bunnell's annual membership drive. The Plate Project is an incredible collaboration of potters, painters and community members spearheaded by Ahna Iredale since 1991. See your work on the wall and know that you are helping Bunnell sustaining the arts in this community. We'll set out the glazes to paint with, the friendly support, and a warm and well-list gallery space to work. Oh, yes - and the teapot! Start gathering your ideas, drawings and plate-painting plans. Let 2010 be the best Plate Project yet!

An ambitious year ahead of us!

Bunnell supports local, state and national touring artists, art education and advocacy. Bunnell provides Artist in Schools programs to over 1400 students and has more than 4000 participants in exhibition openings, concerts, performances, and workshops. The first Artist in Schools program of 2010 begins in January with Ahna Iredale instructing ceramics at West Homer Elementary, starting with a teacher's workshop on January 6 and continuing with 40 hours of instruction to third through sixth graders. A recipient of the Governor's Award for Outstanding Arts Organization, Bunnell persists in its mission to nurture and support innovative art of exceptional quality for diverse audiences in Homer and throughout Alaska every year with your help. Remember Bunnell with Pick.Click.Give. These donations to Bunnell fund the Operating Reserve that sustains important programs like Artist in Schools, touring performances, workshops and monthly exhibitions throughout the winter.
