

Lynn Naden's installation, "Spectrum," opens Friday, Dec. 17

Catered reception 5 to 7pm, Artist Talk at 6.

Homer multi-media artist, Lynn Naden opens a new site-specific installation which features an exploration of light and cast paper. Naden, who has been experimenting with paper sculpture for nearly twenty years, paints her highly textured paper pulp sculptures with gentle light spectrums. The exhibit opens December 17 and runs through January 29.

FEBRUARY

Time Immemorial a play telling the entire history of an Inupiaq village on the North Slope of Alaska, through the experiences of two characters, Tulu and Miti. The play deals with the major changes experienced by the Inupiaq, most notably, the varying and disintegrating changes post-contact with Western culture.

Contribute a work of ART to 350 EARTH!

350 Earth is an international exhibit at Bunnell Street Arts Center, calling on all people to use your most powerful skill --your creativity--to convey the urgency of climate change.

Scientists say that 350 parts per million CO2 in the atmosphere is the safe limit for humanity. We are already at 388.5 ppm. 350 Earth is a global movement to call attention to climate change. By contributing a work of art to Homer's 350 Earth event, you make art the tool that brings people together, educates and inspires. This project involves everyone! Learn more at 350.org

350 Earth runs February 4-26, 2011. Proceeds from sales benefit 350.org

Artwork donations due Jan 29-Feb 1 at Bunnell.

All artwork should be 10" x 10" (2D or 3D) Create together: Sat, Jan. 15 and Sun, Jan. 23, 12-5 pm, $10 stretched canvas and paints provided, or bring your own materials; all ages welcome! Questions: Sharlene Cline 235-3272 or homesteadrestaurant@alaska.net

Emma Hill, Alaskan singer/songwriter, plays Saturday January 8th at 7pm

A 22 year old singer songwriter living in Portland, Oregon Emma began crafting her personal flavor of folk in rural Alaska. In 2009 she released her second album, Clumsy Seduction, maintaining strong folk and Americana roots while crafting beautiful stories and melodies.

Underground Cinema... short films from Milwaukee, January 20

Michael Walsh introduces several short films from graduate students and faculty at the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee. This one hour program features diverse shorts works -- documentary, narrative and experimental-- at 7:30 pm. Donations to support Bunnell Street Art Center gratefully accepted.

Bunnell Street Arts Center is a non-profit organization supported in part by grants from the City of Homer Grants Program through the Homer Foundation, the Ramuson Foundation, the Alaska State Council on the Arts, the National Endowment for the Arts and the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act.

The arts center is open Monday through Saturday 12 to 5pm.
